YARMOUTH REGIONAL HOSPITAL

The Yarmouth Regional Hospital (YRH) is a multi-specialty 124-bed hospital with full integration of family medicine and specialties within a collegial, multidisciplinary environment. We provide care to approximately 60,000 people in Shelburne, Yarmouth and Digby Counties. Yarmouth is the major academic site for the population of Southwest Nova Scotia.

RESIDENCY PROGRAMS

Yarmouth serves as the Southwest Nova teaching site for Dalhousie Family Medicine and General Internal Medicine Residency programs.

ELECTIVES IN SOUTHWEST NS

Each year our physicians host medical learners visiting from across Nova Scotia, Canada, and the world! With opportunities for electives in Primary Maternity Care, Emergency Medicine, Hospitalist, Pediatrics, General Internal Medicine, and more, Yarmouth Regional Hospital is a fantastic place to get a feel for what community medicine is all about!

The Credit Union Place offers $10/night accommodations just steps from YRH.

The Dalhousie Medical Education Advisor can be contacted through the AFMC Student Portal.

LO-COME-FROM-AWAY

The provincial locum program, administered by the Department of Health and Wellness through MSI, provides a guaranteed minimum daily income of $1,200 for family physicians and $1,600 for specialists (actual earnings are often higher), coverage for travel expenses, and support for licensing fees.
